Apart from the above, there are three 9-hole courses on the island at Trou aux Biches Hotel, the Dodo Club in Curepipe & One & Only St Geran Hotel at Belle Mare.

The Mauritius Gymkhana Club has a Par 68 course. This course suffers a little bit from its location in that rainy days are not uncommon and an umbrella is generally advisable.

What it costs to play?

In the current climate the green fees are negotiable and there is a different rate for expatriates and the public. Both Belle Mare Plage courses (The Legend & The Links) is around €95 for the general public and €65 for expatriates. Le Golf du Chateau at Bel Ombre is around €55 for expatriates and Tamarina about the same.

There are two Expat Golf Clubs in Mauritius that organise golf days on a monthly basis. They are:

- Murphy's Golf Club - Membership available and visitors welcome. For further information you can contact Trevor Colley at +230 421 2552 or Zak Cronje at +230 718 0859 or visit their website at www.murphysgolf.net
- Mauritius Expatriates Golf Club - Membership limited and there is a waiting list to join. For further information you can contact Richard Robinson at +230 727 8242 and richard.robinson@asethouse.org
